

Zoo Atlanta Library Pass Frequently Asked Questions

Part I: Accessing and using the Zoo Atlanta Library Pass

How does the Zoo Atlanta Library Pass program work?

When you check out, watch and return the Zoo Atlanta Library Pass DVD to your lending library on time and in good condition, the librarian will provide you with an authorized voucher on which your name will be filled in. Bring the voucher to Zoo Atlanta. You will also need to provide the library card matching the name on the receipt. Do not bring the DVD itself; only the voucher and library card are needed. One authorized voucher is good for free admission for up to four people. Larger family groups must pay for any additional admissions that they require.

How long may I keep the DVD, and may I renew it if I don't have a chance to watch it?

The DVD is due back to your library 7 days after you check it out. It may not be renewed.

Is the DVD my pass and do I take it to Zoo Atlanta for admission?

No, you must return the DVD to your local library. When you return the Zoo Atlanta Library Pass DVD to the lending library on time and in good condition, you will receive an authorized voucher for free admission for up to four people from your librarian.

How much time do I have to use the pass at the Zoo? Are there rain checks or make-up dates?

The pass must be presented at Zoo Atlanta within 4 weeks (28 days) of your return of the DVD. Because Zoo Atlanta is a rain-or-shine destination, there are no rain checks or make-up dates. Under extenuating family circumstances, such as illness, however, individual libraries may extend the timeframe allotted for use of the pass by reissuing it for a 14-day period from the date of a patron's request and return of the original pass.

Am I permitted to request a hold if the DVD has been checked out by another cardholder?

Officially, holds are not permitted on the Zoo DVD. However, many libraries permit cardholders to request a temporary hold on the pass, provided it is currently checked in and available for circulation. Depending on each library system's policy, this hold window might be as short as 30 minutes, until the close of business that day or up to a maximum of 24 hours. Contact your local library branch for more information about their specific policy.

Why do some library branches have only one copy of the DVD, while others have multiple copies?

Zoo Atlanta provided each Georgia public library branch with one DVD. Because of the popularity of the program and the vast differences in service populations of facilities, Zoo Atlanta provided GPLS with additional DVDs to place into circulation at those libraries with the highest service populations and with the greatest demand. For example, the average service population at the Central Library of the Fulton County Library System is approximately 31,000, while the single library in Conyers-Rockdale Library System serves over 90,000 people. Georgia counties with large populations but few facilities may stock more than one copy in order to "level the playing field" for citizens across the state.
