Town Council Meeting Notes

March 11, 2019. Your reporter begins this month with an abject apology, for he has erred! Last month he wrote that residents should look at the proposed mid-fiscal-year budget changes since budgeting (i.e. spending taxpayers’ money) is a key part of the democratic process. Alas! One town resident paid attention to his suggestion only to discover that the proposed budget changes were nowhere to be found on the town website. Your reporter regrets his error, his only excuse being that such documents are routinely made available in print at the town council meetings so he had no need to search for them online. He can also happily report that the approved budget changes were on the website when he rechecked in late March (along with the March agenda and February minutes). All is well that ends well. However, some minutes, agendas, and town manager reports from September of last year through February of this year have yet to be posted. No doubt this will be remedied soon as well.

Well, enough editorializing. The March Town Council meeting began at a rapid clip. The mayor’s opening remarks, adoption of the draft agenda, presentations by residents, and approval of the previous month’s official minutes took only a few minutes to dispose of. Even the one action item of the night, the vote about adopting of the proposed mid-year budget adjustments (changes that were introduced and discussed at the February meeting), was unanimously passed with little discussion. This raised hope that the whole meeting would proceed expeditiously. Not.

The next agenda items fell under “new business.” The first was a hearing on a variance application (10702 Keswick) to enclose a second-floor porch with glass. Under Garrett Park ordinances, porches added to structures existing as of February 15, 2000 can extend eight feet beyond the required front setback for dwellings. But any such porch must be open; it may not be enclosed by glass, screens, or solid walls. In this case, the original house (built in the 1950s before current set-back rules) sits closer to the front of the property than is now allowed. When the current owners put a second floor on the house in 2010, the front of the second floor was set back deliberately to comply with current zoning, while the space from the front of the addition to the front edge of the existing first floor became a roofed porch across the whole width of the house. Therefore, the porch extends beyond the front setback, so enclosure with glass is specifically disallowed. The variance application rested mainly on the hardship clause in town variance rules. When asked what constitutes a hardship, the answer was excessive buildup of dust and dirt which makes the porch difficult to use.

The existing rules about porches are very clear and it would seem to be difficult to make the case that dust and dirt accumulating on open porches constitute a special hardship for one residence and not the rest of us in town who have open porches. But discussion went on for an hour. Should an exception be made since the original house was built before the current set-back rules? What constitutes a “hardship” anyway? Even though the set-back rules are clear, wouldn’t a glass enclosure be largely invisible? Perhaps the set-back rules will be changed in the future. Etc., etc. At the end of the discussion, some council members were uncertain about which way to vote, so the mayor suggested—and the council acquiesced—in postponing a decision until the April meeting while council members attempt to gather more information relevant to the case.

Having kicked that can (of dust?) down the road, the next new business items moved more rapidly. The mayor announced the dates nomination of candidates, the date for the candidates’ forum, and the date for the actual election (May 6; be sure to vote!). Next was an announcement of an upcoming town historic house tour on May 4, including a reception at the end. Details will be forthcoming. And finally came a brief mention of a historic preservation tax credit that council member Paczkowski is looking into but thinks will probably not apply to homeowners in Garrett Park.

Next came a long list of updates. The most important item came first—the Safe Routes to School (SRTS) project. The state government has now permitted the town to solicit bids for the project. Hooray! By the time you read this report, a preliminary meeting with potential bidders will have taken place on March 28. Bids are due April 11, at which time the town engineer will review them.

Council member McClintock reported that the Arboretum committee is continuing its work on editing and revising the draft report and plan stemming from the inventory of all trees on town property done last fall. Council member Paczkowski reported that he is still working on a document about possible renovations to the town hall and it may be this coming fall before he can provide a thorough review of options with estimated costs attached to them. Council member Schulp reported that the Archives committee is still working on putting together a job description to use in searching for a new part-time archivist. Council member Wegner says the town has received bids for street repaving and work is proceeding on how to evaluate the bids. Council member Schulp noted that the Traffic and Parking committee is still trying to work out what to do at the end of Weymouth (where one town resident wants to prevent residents of Parkside from parking by putting up appropriate parking signs, but others do not). Finally, council member Wegner reported on recent meetings with state and county officials about the possibility of a blinking traffic signal on Strathmore partway up the hill from Beach Drive to warn traffic about the upcoming pedestrian crosswalk around the curve at the top of the hill at Keswick. He would like to see action on this by the time the pool opens for the summer.

Missing from the update list was anything about the deployment of 5G cell-phone transmission equipment in town. This is another issue on which your reporter made a mistake. Having missed the January meeting, when the council voted on a set of rules governing such equipment, he mixed up what was being said at the February meeting. Sean Conlan, who covered the January meeting for the Bugle, provided some detail on what the initial ordinance covers, and noted that because of the rushed, emergency nature of the initial ordinance, revisions and additions to it would be forthcoming. At the February meeting, the update announcement by council member Schulp was that the town lawyer and town resident cell-phone expert Ken Rehbehn were still working on possible revisions to the January ordinance, not on creating the original ordinance, as mistakenly reported by your regular correspondent. He hoped these revisions might be ready for the council’s consideration at the March meeting. But there was nothing on the agenda in March and no one brought the subject up. So, stay tuned.

As usual, the final item of the night was the town manager’s monthly report. Revenue and expenditures continue to be within expectations, so all is well. On this happy note, the meeting came to an end. At 2.5 hours, it was not as short as your reporter hoped, but not as long as some in the past year.

Town Manager's Notes

What's New? The Town Office continues to make important strides with two big undertakings - the street repaving project and improved IT in the Town Office. The Town received street repaving bids from interested contractors, and as a next step will sign a contract with the selected bidder. A server was also recently installed in the Town Office, and we are in the process of getting new computers set up. This will allow the Town Office to more efficiently serve residents!

Town Elections. Join fellow residents at three important Garrett Park election events:

- Candidates Nomination Meeting - Wednesday, March 27, 7:30pm at the Town Hall
- Candidates Forum - Wednesday, April 24, 7:30pm at the Town Hall
- GP Election Day - Monday, May 6. Polls will be open from 7:00am to 7:30pm in the Post Office lobby at Penn Place, 4600 Waverly Avenue

State tax form. On your state income tax form, remember to write "Garrett Park" in the box labeled "City, Town or Taxing Area." This ensures that our community receives its fair share of the income tax revenues distributed by the state. This revenue supports many of the services the Town provides to residents.

Permits. If you are planning to do any construction, please remember that a Garrett Park building permit is required whenever a new structure is to be built, including houses, additions, sheds, garages, decks, porches, and driveways. This is in addition to the required Montgomery County permit. To save time, complete your Garrett Park permit and submission of plats and drawings before requesting a County permit. Permit applications and payment can be completed online at <http://www.garrettparkmd.gov/government/operations/permits>.

Yard waste is now collected every Monday through the end of October. Use only paper bags for yard waste and bundle with twine or string the brush, sticks, and bamboo. If you have branches too large to bundle for yard waste collection, bring them to the curb, cut-end facing the street; Town maintenance staff will chip them. Bamboo cannot be chipped - instead please cut it into 4-foot lengths and bundle it for regular yard waste collection.

As always, please reach out to the Town office with any questions or concerns, 301-933-7488 or managerandrea@garrettparkmd.gov.

Citizens Association Notes

Happy Spring! With the consistent sunny days we've been having, we're looking forward to all the warm weather excitement that's in store these coming months. Thanks to all who came out to our March Happy Hour! We had a great turnout and a fun, diverse crowd – neighbors that have lived in GP for 8 months to over 40 years. We also got helpful insights on the kinds of events folks would like to see the CA organize (kids-focused activities, adult mixers, and ice-cream socials!). And according to one of our little in-person polls, Kenilworth Avenue won for most attended residents. After some initial mingling and snacking, we transitioned to the Candidate Nominations for the three Town Council positions open. Four individuals were nominated that evening: Stephen Paczkowski, Peter Benjamin, Dan Simmons and Phil Schulp. Congratulations, gentlemen!

Nominations and Candidate Forum. You may still nominate a candidate (including yourself) by contacting the Town Office. Please note that candidates' written statements will be due for printing in the Bugle by April 17. The CA will host the Candidate Forum on Wednesday, April 24.

Future Meetings. Do you have a suggestion or idea for an event or meeting topic that you feel would be of interest to the town? If so, let us know via email to alysia.bone.gp@gmail.com. You can also send a note to Box 456.

Annual Dues. The Citizens Association 2019 annual dues are being collected. The annual dues are $15 for individuals and $25 per family. These help cover the costs of the events we hold over the course of the year. Thank you to all of those who have already paid. For those who have not, please submit dues by mailing them to the Citizens Association at Box 456.

Arboretum Notes

It's been a long winter, and although there might not have been enough snow for some of us, we certainly had a few good days of sledding days on Garrett Park's "sledding street" and several welcome snow days from school and work thrown in. But even though it might seem that nothing goes on with the Arboretum Committee in the winter, that certainly wasn't the case this year.

First, Butch, Frank, George, and the town staff and our tree contractors have been busy with the usual winter work of pruning and removals of potentially dangerous trees, and getting ready for some spring planting.

But more importantly this year, the entire Arboretum Committee has been extremely busy all winter working hand in hand with Natural Resources Design, (NRD) the company hired by the Town to help us develop a Comprehensive Arboretum Plan so that our stellar town arboretum can continue for generations of Garrett Park residents to come. This has been a collaborative exercise – and our committee has been working tirelessly with NRD in hours of live meetings, conference calls, and edits and revisions to the plan to make sure that it is something that is not only impressive and informative, (which it is) but also can serve as a useful and practical manual that will provide guidance in maintaining our beautiful canopy.

The plan, and the accompanying computerized tree inventory, are almost ready to roll out, so look for an announcement of a Town Meeting sometime in mid-May where NRD will demonstrate the new interactive AGIS system that will allow every town resident to access specific arboretum information on your smart phone, tablet or computer by referencing the tree tag number that you have probably noticed on all of the town trees, and will provide links to information on each specific tree. Yes, make space for yet another app for your smartphone.

To showcase the Arboretum, and in conjunction with the Town Meeting in mid-May, the Arboretum Committee will be sponsoring a SPRING TREE WALK on Sunday, May 19th at 1:00 pm starting at the Post Office. For those of you who attended our Fall Tree Walk, you know that our Town Arborist, Phil Normandy, is both an entertaining and informative guide who will highlight some of our treasured specimens. Specific details on both the NRD meeting and the Town Tree Walk will follow.

From the Archives

In her 1923 novel "The Dim Lantern" Temple Bailey writes about Sherwood Park (her name for Garrett Park) in ways that might surprise us. The Barnes family made up of Jane and her brother Baldwin are struggling to meet the mortgage payments for the cottage their father purchased on the "installment plan". Bailey describes the circumstances in town; trolley cars have encroached into the market of the main line railroad. Private cars are more efficient. As the train service deteriorated the property values fell. Bailey writes "The little suburb degenerated, grew less fashionable. People who might have added social luster to its gatherings moved away". Even the architecture that later becomes our claim to historical significance gets attention from this author who lived at 11005 Montrose Avenue. "The frame houses, which at first had made such a brave showing, became a bit down at the heel. Most of them, built before the revival of good taste in architecture, seemed top heavy and dull with their imitation towers, their fretted balconies, their grey and brown coloring, their bands of contrasting shingles tied like sashes around their middles." Perhaps this fictional description of the town serves to enliven our sense of history.

What We're Cooking

Cauliflower and Chickpea Quinoa with Tahini Drizzle

This recipe may be “too healthy” for some, but we really like it and it is super-easy!

Ingredients:

- 2 1/2 cups chopped cauliflower florets
- 2/3 cup chopped onion
- 1 (15-ounce) can organic chickpeas, rinsed, drained, and patted dry
- 2 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 1 1/2 cups cooked quinoa
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 1/4 cup pine nuts, toasted
- 2 tablespoons tahini
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 tablespoons plain nonfat Greek yogurt
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons lower-sodium soy sauce
- 1 garlic clove, minced

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 400°.
2. Combine first 3 ingredients on a jelly-roll pan. Drizzle with 1 tablespoon oil; toss to coat. Bake at 400° for 20 minutes or until cauliflower is tender, stirring once. Place remaining 1 tablespoon oil, cauliflower mixture, quinoa, and next 4 ingredients (through nuts) in a large bowl; toss.
3. Combine tahini and remaining ingredients in a small bowl, stirring with a whisk. Drizzle tahini mixture over cauliflower mixture.

African American History and Women's History Celebration

On Friday March 15, 2019, Garrett Park Elementary School (GPES) hosted an event celebrating African American History Month and Women's History Month. This celebration was part of the Allies Playdates group, which is a sub-division of GPES PTA. Allies Playdates are FREE GPES PTA-sponsored events intended to be a fun-filled experience to explore how we fit in the global perspective even as we bring our unique skills to the world. Allies Playdates wants to reinforce that everyone is a special piece of the same big amazing puzzle on the planet that we all share! And TOGETHER, we learn, play, and thrive, as a community. Sangeeta Kaul of the Allies Playdates along with Rebecca Miller and Erin Rehman of the GPES PTA were the co-hosts of the event, supported by wonderful volunteers like Ajay Gulati, Guita Mahmoudi, Kavery, Dana Goodson. BobbiJo Holtz and Oscar Velasco provided enchanting live music, as well as, on-hands training with the musical instruments for interested kids. A diverse snacks-and-treats buffet encompassed various parts of the globe to share in the cultural diversity. The event was launched with a cake-cutting ceremony by all the children. There was a gallery display of seventy pieces of artwork created by the GPES children for the occasion as well.

The party was attended by GPES students, their families and friends. GPES Principal Dan Tucci welcomed Garrett Park Mayor Kacky to the stage where she regaled the crowd with her amazing personal and professional anecdotes! Her stories of army training and sharing a home with her siblings were well-received by the mixed-age crowd. This was followed by a question-answer session before GPES's very own Dr. Sandra Duval (ESOL) took stage. She shared with the crowd many posters and stories of 40 African American women leaders through various professions from past and present. She also shared an instance of how Nichelle Nichols (who portrayed Uhura on Star Trek series) was disillusioned by the negative backlash from audience and wanted to quit the series. This happened after the very first screen kiss shared by her and co-star William Shatner (as Captain James T. Kirk). It was Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King (a fan of the show) who asked her to stay on the series as she was a vital and pivotal in her role.

Another Garrett Park citizen, Mrs. Nguyen-Minh Chau, then took the stage to share her experiences as an immigrant from Vietnam and her subsequent career as an activist. She highlighted some of her challenges and then her work with the NAACP. She was very engaging with the young audience, often lobbing questions at them with a smile.

The evening ended with party games, prizes and a promise to see all at the next Allies Playdates event, coming soon.

Letter from the Mayor

Spring is in the air! Birds are chirping. Flowers are blooming. Cherry blossoms are popping.

In last month's letter, I described a very busy spring schedule for the Town. It surely is!

We received the go ahead from the Federal (and State) Highway Administration (FHWA) to advertise the Safe Route to School (SRTS) sidewalk construction project. Last week we posted the invitation for bids on the e-Maryland.gov website. The sealed bids will be due in the Town Office on April 11. During this same time, the federal Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (ACHP) has been asked to concur on FHWA's final determination regarding the Section 106 compliance review. This review, you may recall, is required by the National Historic Preservation Act whenever federal grant funding is applied to projects within historic properties. This federal law also requires consultation with interested and affected parties of the project. As a result of their review last December, FHWA found no adverse effect on historical properties. They also believed that the goals and overall intention of the consultation requirements were met. While the late timing to seek ADHA concurrence comes as a surprise to us, I'm told that we should receive word by mid to late April, which is around the same time that we hope to select the most "responsive, responsible lowest bidder."

April is also the time that we'll be awarding a construction contract for the latest round of street repaving. Our town engineering firm, Clark/Azar, completed their review of the bid proposals that came in last month. Overall, we had 12 good bids representing a fairly normal distribution of low to high pricing. Based on Clark/Azar's recommendation, the Town Office has selected a contractor and will be working out the details in the next couple of weeks. Council approval to issue the award will be sought at the April Town Council Meeting.

The Town Office has been hard at work formulating next year's operating and capital budgets (for fiscal year 2020 that starts this July 1). We will be holding a budget work session with council members next week to discuss projected revenues and expenditures for FY20. Up for question will be whether to adjust our local property tax rate to account for projected losses in revenue. Early last spring, the Town Council had approved a 1 cent reduction in our local tax rate—the first in at least 8 years. This reduced our FY19 revenue by almost $27,000. We're on course to see a similar decrease in FY20 based on current state projections. In addition, the state is anticipating lower income revenue, which results in less revenue for the Town as well. As important as these projections are to maintaining current levels of service that we've come to expect, they also have ramifications for future fiscal policy and spending priorities, which we will be discussing next week as well.

With all the above going on, the Town Office is getting a much-needed upgrade to its computers and software. Now everyone will be able to access shared files and calendars; and work from within the same (and up-to-date) Microsoft Office suite of software. The transition is still ongoing as electronic files are being transferred and digital devices are being reconfigured. Although a challenge at the moment, we know we'll be gaining tremendous efficiencies in workflow soon. And when this is accomplished, don't be surprised if you see the Town Office staff whistling a happy tune—just in time for spring!
